How would you describe your performance as an employee?

Overall, how do you feel your time at Pacific Rim Christian University contributed to forming you not just as a professional, but as a practicing Christian in society?

It was essential!!

I believe the school was a catalyst in my walk with the Lord, setting me up well for the places God was leading me. I am so very thankful. The relationships and the teachers I had sculpted both my outlook and my ministry.

It was critical to my growth.

Valuable

The teachings of servant leadership have carried me to where I am now.

I'd say PacRim helped me a lot as a practicing Christian in society. The classes have transformed my thinking of God, having me fall in love more with Him, and naturally those fruits of obedience and going "above and beyond" at work started flowing from me.

My time at PacRim greatly influenced how I handle the day to day interactions with students.

It was and is a blessing to my life. Would recommend PacRim to everyone.

Pac Rim helped shape not just my view of Christian service, but also my worldview on working in the marketplace.

Pacrim has helped to direct many of my core theological, spiritual, and relational practices today.

My time at PRCC (PRBC at the time) was foundational in forming me as a professional and practicing Christian in society through experiencing biblically based education alongside classmates and faculty that crossed contexts both personally and professionally. It provided opportunities to learn to lead and listen from around my sphere of influence: up, down, and sideways. I still maintain meaningful mentoring relationships with the staff and faculty from my time at PRBC that continue to shape me over a decade after graduating.

Professionally, my time at Pac Rim encouraged me to find a meaningful way to use my education. In society, my time at the University prompts me to pursue growth in the way that I love God and others well.

I am grateful for my education at Pacific Rim Christian University because it taught me the importance of loving God and loving others, sharing the gospel in a meaningful way that people will be able to connect to, reflecting the character of Christ in the way I behave and respond to others, serving others in humility, as well as placing my identity in Jesus Christ.

Very well

Very profound and Christ honoring in how I engage others.
